

49!

Frank Mazzola Jr

2016 Oil on Canvas 60 x 34

Painted a few days after the Pulse Nightclub terrorist attack that killed 49 people. I wanted to riddle the flag with bullet holes but decided against it. I felt that painting the number 49 would make the statement I wanted without violating the Pride Flag.

The cross at the top of the flag pole represents what Christians should all believe, God loves us all. No exceptions. I know it's wishful thinking but to me, hate is hate, and using God as a justification for hate is just plain wrong. Period.

Unframed $9,000.
